Uranus and Jupiter: One Last Trip to Pisces

September 2010

From early September until Jan 2011, Jupiter and Uranus will make one last journey back into Pisces. The retrograde period and then the final direct motion exit in Aries, will mark the conclusion of a process that began well over a year ago.

Have you been watching your dreams? Especially the ones that happen while you're asleep. The inner world is filled with messages and symbols that are healing and informative right now. And a hunch is much more than a hunch - it's an inner knowing - act on it!
